OSLO ASSET MANAGEMENT AS - DISCLOSURE PURSUANT TO REGULATION (EU) 2019/2088 ARTICLE 4

Article 4 of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 on sustainability-related disclosures (SFDR) requires asset managers to disclose whether they consider adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors.

Oslo Asset Management AS does not currently consider adverse impacts within the meaning of article 4 of SFDR.

Oslo Asset Management excludes companies included on the Norges Bank exclusion list for investment by funds under management. Further information in relation to this exclusion list can be found on the Norges Bank webpage on www.nbim.no. Article 4 of SFDR will be supplemented by regulatory technical standards with detailed requirements on how asset managers shall report principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions. The regulatory technical standards are not yet adopted and entered into force, however it is expected that asset managers will be required to make an annual disclosure against a list of mandatory adverse sustainability indicators, which will require collection of a comprehensive set of data. As the regulatory technical standards are not finalized, and taking due account of the size, nature and scale of Oslo Asset Management's activities, Oslo Asset Management does not, at this time, consider the principal adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors. Oslo Asset Management considers this a pragmatic and economical approach to compliance with its obligations under SFDR.

Oslo Asset Management will keep this approach under review, and closely monitor the regulatory developments.
